Leaves of Silence

Poems and Micropoems

A poet, academic, and translator of rare integrity and conviction, Dr. Ram Krishna Singh's journey from the spiritual city of Varanasi to becoming one of the most distinctive minimalist poets in India is marked by both quiet resilience and creative audacity. His body of work, shaped over decades, resists easy classification, challenging the aesthetic and thematic expectations of Indian poetry in English.

As Indian English poetry continues to grow in diversity and global recognition, Dr. Singh's contribution remains both foundational and forward-looking. He is a poet for those who listen between the lines, who find meaning in the pause, the fragment, the gesture. And in this, Ram Krishna Singh is not just a poet of his time, but a voice that echoes beyond it.

Four other Poetry books of Ram Krishna Singh published by Authorspress:
